

GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund (GSCGF) is a public charity created to encourage and assist donors in giving to charitable organizations. GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund offers donor advised funds, endowments, specific purpose funds, and other accounts to help both individuals and organizations accomplish their charitable giving goals.

GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund is able to facilitate gifts of cash, securities, and real estate (whole or partial interests), as well as most other types of appreciated assets into a GSCGF account. We are able to make distributions to a wide variety of charitable organizations, including religious, educational, medical, emergency relief, and many others. We are also able to split one gift among several charities.

If you are considering a family foundation, or an organizational foundation, GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund is able to serve you without the high fees and time-consuming administration (meetings, paperwork, audits, regulatory compliance, etc.) required to create and maintain a separate charitable entity.

GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund is an independent, not-for-profit organization, with its own board of directors. Income is derived from a modest fee for its services. A minimum gift is required to open an account. There are no other start-up costs.

SIMPLIFY YOUR GIVING

Giving can be complicated. All too often, donors and charitable organizations alike face a diverse number of issues in the giving and receiving of gifts:

- Is the receiving charity equipped to process the type of appreciated asset a donor is ready to give?
- How can a gift of one appreciated asset be divided among several charities?
- Can the timing of a gift be arranged to benefit both the donor and the receiving charity?
- Can a donor's family be included in their legacy of charitable giving?

GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund can SIMPLIFY these issues, and more, for donors and charities alike.

For donors, a GSCGF account allows you to make a gift of cash or an appreciated asset, receive an immediate tax deduction and bypass capital gains, and distribute the gift to one or more charities when the time is right. Through a named successor or a schedule of distribution, gifts can even continue beyond your lifetime.

For organizations, a GSCGF account allows more time to concentrate on the mission of your organization. Your GSCGF account can receive gifts of cash and many types of appreciated assets without the costly and time consuming administration of an organizational foundation. Accounts can be for general organization purposes, or for a specific project within your organization. They may also be endowed, if desired.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

An initial gift of $5000 is required to open a GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund account. All gifts (cash, securities, real estate, other appreciated assets, etc.) receive an immediate charitable income tax deduction and bypass any capital gains. Gifts are professionally managed until distribution is requested. Earnings accumulate in the account from the date of your initial gift and are available for distribution.

Donor receives an immediate charitable income tax deduction for each gift and bypasses any capital gain to save on taxes.

Gifts are professionally managed and accumulate earnings until ready for distribution.

GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund makes distributions to the ultimate charitable beneficiary(ies) upon recommendation from the donor or account designee.

EXAMPLES

- John and Mary Smith desire to establish a donor advised account with GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund that will make current and future gifts to their favorite charities. They make an initial gift of $5000 worth of securities to open their fund and intend to make additional gifts as they are able. Immediately upon making a gift, John and Mary receive a charitable income tax deduction and bypass any capital gains. John and Mary periodically recommend charities to receive fund distributions, but leave some funds to be professionally managed until they are ready to distribute more gifts. Upon their deaths, John and Mary choose to leave a legacy by designating a portion of their estate to their GSCGF account and granting each of their children a proxy to recommend further distributions.
- A Christian University has been considering a foundation to support its mission. However, the cost, time, administration and personnel required to properly establish and maintain a foundation is daunting. Instead, the university establishes the University Foundation with GuideStream Charitable Gift Fund. Donors work directly with GSCGF to accomplish gifts of all types of appreciated assets, with all gift administration and receipting handled by GSCGF. Proceeds from the gifts are professionally managed and earn income until the university requests distributions to help further its mission.
